

Northwestern Michigan Fair Is growing and we are inviting you to be part of it

Members of the Northwestern Michigan Fair along with friends and families of the Northern Livestock program invite you to be part of a barn raising project. With the increase of participation in our livestock programs, we are in need of a permanent Llama barn. We are attempting to build a roof with open sides so it can also be used for storage in the winter months.

To help raise money for our new Llama barn, we would like to offer you the opportunity to sponsor a rafter for the Llama barn and in return your name will be printed on a plate and attached to the rafter in recognition of your generous support towards a great community project. The cost to sponsor a rafter is $200 each and can be purchased by anyone, whether an individual, family, club, business/organization, or in memory of a loved one. If you would just like to donate towards the cost of the barn any amount would be greatly appreciated.

We would like to have the building name be "Audrey Moses Llama Barn" in her memory and the love she had for the Llamas.
